Firewall Configuration Report Generator

Documenting the configuration of your firewall has never been this easy: Autodoc, the “Firewall Configuration Report Generator” developed by Boll, automatically generates complete reports for all your WatchGuard, Fortinet, or SonicWall firewalls.

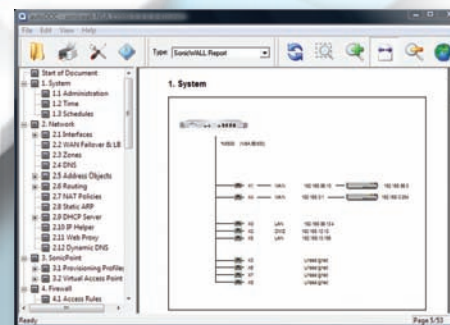

The brilliant Reporting Tool

Autodoc makes putting together detailed documentation of your firewall settings easy. Developed by BOLL, this solution which is already in use worldwide, produces concise, printable reports from your configuration file. If no printout is necessary, the report can also be converted into a pdf-document with Adobe Acrobat for handing out to customers.

Autodoc is particularly recommended for:

- generating comprehensive and professional documentation of your firewalls
- printing out all firewall-settings for review
- supplying management, auditors, and clients with accurate information
- achieving seamless documentation of altered settings
- comparing different firewall configurations (manually on your screen, or via printout)
- adjusting the VPN-settings of two firewalls
- having your firewall settings with you „on the go“

“quick and convenient”

Manually documenting firewall configurations is now a thing of the past. With Autodoc you can automatically generate detailed reports. If and when the configuration of a firewall changes, Autodoc allows you to create an updated report within seconds – it is both quick and convenient.

Additionally, you can also view a full review of your configuration on your screen. The table of contents contains links to the respective sections.
